

Georgia State University
Department of Respiratory Therapy
Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The Department of Respiratory Therapy in the Lewis College of Nursing and Health Professions at Georgia State University in Atlanta invites applications for a 12-month Post-Doctoral Fellowship position, with the possibility of reappointment for two additional years depending on funding. The prospective postdoctoral fellow will work with faculty and students conducting research in respiratory therapy, including but not limited to aerosol medication delivery, pulmonary rehabilitation and lung disease. During the fellowship, the fellow will work with faculty on ongoing research focused on a range of issues including, tobacco control, tobacco addiction, smoking cessation, respiratory disease and health behavior. The fellow will also have time for their own complementary research, and we will facilitate access to data sources in support of their research. The fellow will be supervised by Dr. Doug Gardenhire

The Department of Respiratory Therapy is a large, well-established program offering a baccalaureate, master and PhD degree in respiratory therapy. The department is located in a large urban university and affiliated with major medical centers throughout the metro Atlanta area and United States.

Georgia State University is the Southeast's leading urban research institution with over 20 academic units and grants degrees in more than 200 programs. Georgia State University recently was ranked as the most innovative public university in the U.S. offering educational opportunities for traditional and nontraditional students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels by blending the best of theoretical and applied inquiry, scholarly and professional pursuits, and scientific and artistic expression.

Salary is competitive and is commensurate with experience and qualifications. A benefits package that includes major health, dental and life insurance and state pension is offered.

Screening and review of applications begin immediately. The search will remain open until the position is filled. The position will begin July 2023.
