

Position Title: Lecturer (Director of Clinical Education) - Respiratory TherapyExternal Link to Posting: <http://jobs.uncw.edu/postings/16289>Department: School of Health & Applied Human Sciences

Vacancy Number: 16F-288

Position Number: 3042

Location of Workplace: Main UNCW Campus, Wilmington, NC

Position Type: Permanent

Job Posting Date: 10/28/2019

Priority Consideration Date: 01/25/2020

Brief Summary of Work for this Position

The School of Health and Applied Human Sciences, within the College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) at the University of North Carolina Wilmington (UNCW), seeks a nine-month lecturer in the School's proposed Bachelor of Science in Respiratory Therapy (BSRSP) program. The successful candidate will serve as the Clinical Education Coordinator and will assist in the development of this new program, including identifying clinical sites, forming partnerships with community colleges, and developing course modules. Once the program is launched, the successful candidate will provide clinical direction of the program in accordance with fulfilling the requirements for CoARC accreditation and provide didactic and clinical instruction. The BSRSP has been approved by the UNC Board of Governors and is awaiting SACSCOC approval. Upon initial appointment in Fall 2020, this position will be assigned to one of the current degree programs within the CHHS and will be tasked with helping with the continued development and implementation of the proposed BSRSP scheduled for initial enrollment in Fall 2021.

Minimum Requirements

Applicants must possess the following qualifications: Master's degree in Respiratory Care or related discipline with at least 18 hours of graduate coursework closely related to Respiratory Care from an academic institution accredited by a regional or national accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (USDE); Registered Respiratory Therapist credential from the National Board for Respiratory Care; Licensed as a Respiratory Care Practitioner (RCP) in the state of North Carolina or eligible to obtain RCP License in the state; Minimum of four (4) years' experience as a Registered Respiratory Therapist with at least two (2) year in clinical respiratory care; Minimum of two (2) years' experience teaching in an accredited respiratory care program either as program faculty or as clinical faculty; Evidence of successful college teaching experience in multiple delivery formats including online (traditional and accelerated) and face-to-face on-campus lecture, in Respiratory Care or a closely related curriculum.

Preferred Qualifications

Preference will be given to candidates who possess the following qualifications:

Previous experience with professional organizations and accreditation (CoARC) in respiratory care; Completion of the CoARC Key Personnel Training Program at time of appointment or a commitment to complete this program in the first year in the position;

Evidence of successful community involvement including the ability to develop and sustain formal partnerships with relevant healthcare-related agencies;

Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with constituents across the College and University; Evidence of successful technology integration in course delivery.

Primary Function of Organizational Unit

The School of Health and Applied Human Sciences (SHAHS) has six undergraduate degree programs: Athletic Training; Public Health; Exercise Science; Healthful Living and Fitness Education; Recreation, Sport Leadership, and Tourism Management; and Recreation Therapy. The SHAHS also has a Master's of Science degree in Gerontology and 4+1 options (Bachelors / Masters) with Public Health / Gerontology, Recreation Therapy / Gerontology, and Exercise Science / Gerontology, and supports a Masters of Arts in Teaching (MAT) and a Masters of Education concentration in Physical Education and Health through the Watson College of Education. Minors are offered in Gerontology; Health; and Recreation, Sport Leadership, and Tourism Management. Each of these degree programs focuses on helping others find enjoyment and satisfaction in their lives regardless of age or ability.

College/School Information

The College of Health and Human Services was created in July 2010 to provide UNCW with a new mechanism to link and focus its health-related research, professional continuing education, and health knowledge dissemination and application. In the formative stage of development, the CHHS is currently home to three professional schools: School of Health and Applied Human Sciences, School of Nursing, and School of Social Work. The College seeks to be nationally recognized for its inter-professional and collaborative approach to enhancing the health and quality of life of individuals, families, and communities in southeastern North Carolina and beyond. The mission of the School of Health and Applied Human Sciences is to promote the health and wellbeing of all persons through exemplary preparation of Health and Human Sciences professionals, community engagement, and research. The School of Health and Applied Human Sciences houses undergraduate degree programs in Athletic Training; Exercise Science; Public Health Studies; Physical Education (teacher licensure); Recreation, Sport Leadership, and Tourism Management; and Recreation Therapy, as well as a graduate program in Applied Gerontology.

University Information

The University of North Carolina Wilmington, the state's coastal university, is dedicated to learning through the integration of teaching and mentoring with research and service. Guided by our Strategic Plan, the university is committed to nurturing a campus culture that reflects its values of diversity and globalization, ethics and integrity, and excellence and innovation. A public institution with nearly 17,000 students, the university is focused on supporting and enhancing the student-centered learning experience that has been a hallmark since its founding in 1947. UNCW offers an array of programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels, and doctoral programs in marine biology, educational leadership, psychology and nursing practice. UNCW is one of the 17 institutions that make up the UNC System.

EEO Statement

At the University of North Carolina at Wilmington (UNCW), our culture reflects our values of inclusion, diversity, globalization, ethics and integrity and innovation and we are committed to providing equality of educational and employment opportunity for all persons without regard to race, sex (such as gender, gender identity, marital status, childbirth, and pregnancy), age, color, national origin (including ethnicity), religion, disability, sexual orientation, political affiliation, veteran status, military service member status, genetic information, or relationship to other university constituents – except where sex, age, or ability represent bona fide educational or occupational qualifications or where marital status is a statutorily established eligibility criterion for State funded employee benefit programs. UNCW believes that embracing the unique contributions of our faculty, staff and students is critical to our success and paramount in being recognized for our global mindset.

Priority Consideration Information

Priority consideration will be given to applications received by the Priority Date of January 25, 2020; however, applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Applications must be submitted through the online application system to be considered. Position details and full applicant instructions can be found at <http://jobs.uncw.edu/postings/16289>